(Service of Soldiers who volunteered from Embodied Militia, of Schoolmasters, and of Musketry Instructors.)

17—Gen. No. 197.

War Office, 23rd November, 1863.

QUESTIONS having arisen as to whether the service, allowed to reckon as "Line Service,"† by Soldiers who volunteered from the Embodied Militia should count towards discharge, or towards Good Conduct Pay and Pension only, the Secretary of State for War, with the concurrence of His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief, consents to such men, who had rendered six months' Militia Service previous to volunteering, being allowed to reckon half their embodied Service, rendered over the age of 18, towards the first period of their line engagement.

The said half of their embodied service may accordingly be inserted as the first entry in their attestations and register sheets.

This concession is not to be looked upon as in any way modifying the general liability of Soldiers to serve out the period for which they are attested, before they can legally claim their discharge; but is granted on the recommendation of the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief, as a special and exceptional boon, to a class of men who, at a time of great national pressure, transferred their services from the Militia to the Regular Army, under an impression that the service they had given in the Militia would be allowed to reckon as a portion of their Line engagement.

Doubts having also arisen as to the proper mode of accounting for the "former service" which Schoolmasters and men of the Corps of Permanent Instructors of Musketry are allowed by regulation to reckon "towards Pension," the accompanying model records for Schoolmasters, for men of the Corps of Permanent Instructors of Musketry and for men who volunteered from Embodied Militia, have been prepared for general information and guidance; and Boards of Officers will forthwith be assembled for the purpose of verifying (in accordance therewith) the services of men of the above classes whose records have not hitherto been correctly made out.

EDWARD LUGARD.

Gen. No. 6—887.

War Office, 25th November, 1863.

THE Secretary of State for War having had under consideration the Order of 21st March, 1863, Gen. No. 6—812, the concluding portion of Article 46, and the whole of Article 68 of the Ordnance Regulations dated 1855, desires that the same be cancelled, and the following substituted in lieu :—

"When there is a relax of business, and the men can be spared without detriment to the service, they may be employed in repairing and keeping in order departmental roads, and doing what may be necessary to the ground round the storehouses and buildings, exclusive of the premises attached to the quarters of the Officers and men.

"Stores and materials belonging to Government are on no account to be used for private purposes; and labourers are not to be employed for any private purpose whatever during the regular working hours of the Department, nor during any extra time in which they may be required for the public service, even though their pay be checked on the 'List and Check Book.'"

REFERRING to General Order dated 1st August last, No. 829, His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief announces to the Cavalry, that, subject to the annexed emendation, the Trumpet Sounds inserted in the Brigade and Divisional Movements of Cavalry are to supersede those published with General Order dated 1st July, 1865.

In addition to the copy of the Brigade and Divisional Movements of Cavalry which has already been forwarded to the Commanding Officer, two copies will be supplied at the public expense for issue to the Regimental Serjeant Major and the Trumpet Major of each Cavalry Regiment.

By Command.

The under-mentioned Sounds for Pursuing are to be substituted for "Skirmishers out" in the Brigade and Divisional Movements of Cavalry, which latter are to be used for Skirmishers only, viz. :—

Musketry.—6 (1861).

Horse Guards, S. W., 9th November, 1863.

THE Field Marshal Commanding in Chief finds it necessary to call the attention of Officers commanding Troops and Companies to the necessity of the several Musketry practices being carried on strictly according to the Regulations of the Service, and of the Returns being made out and preserved in the prescribed manner, several instances having been brought to notice in which, on account of irregularities under the above heads, the Good Shooting Pay of the Soldiers has been forfeited.

Should any future cases occur of loss to the men from like causes, His Royal Highness will hold Troop and Company Officers responsible for disallowances made by the War Office.

By Command.

CIRCULAR MEMORANDUM. Gen. No. 282.

Addressed to the Army at Home and Abroad.

Cook.—2 (1863).

Horse Guards, S. W., 2nd December, 1863.

His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief, in concurrence with the Secretary of State for War, is pleased to direct that the following Instructions for Serjeant Cooks be issued to the Army:—

1. The Serjeant Cook will personally superintend all cooking done in the Regimental Cookhouses, which is to be carried on in strict conformity with the system in which he has been instructed at Aldershot.
2. He will have under his orders, at most, one cook and one assistant cook per Troop, Company or Battery, but this number may be reduced at the discretion of the Commanding Officer. The former is to be changed only at long intervals, or upon misconduct; and the latter weekly.
3. He will thoroughly instruct those under him in all operations connected with cooking.
4. He will have charge of all cookhouses and cooking utensils. He will cause them to be kept scrupulously clean, and will report any damage or loss at once to the Quarter Master.
5. He will enforce order, punctuality and cleanliness on the part of those under him, and he alone will give them such orders connected with cooking as may be necessary.
6. He will not allow any person to enter any of the cookhouses, except on duty.
7. He will ascertain every morning from the Quarter Master, or other person representing him, the number of men in each Company, Troop, &c. in mess for the day, and make arrangements accordingly.
8. He will cause the water for coffee and tea, and all vegetables, to be boiled in quantities as large as the size of the boilers will admit, without regard to Troops, Companies, &c. The vegetables for each mess to be enclosed in nets, and labelled.
9. The dinners to be prepared by Squadrons, Batteries or Companies, unless the cooking apparatus be unsuitable for so doing, in which case, such combinations are to be effected as may be found most economical.
10. He will encourage the men to have their dinners prepared in as many different ways as the apparatus will admit, due regard being paid to Rule 11; and he will afford them every facility for their so doing.
11. He will be held responsible that no more fires are lighted, or ovens heated, than may be absolutely necessary, and that all the cinders are consumed. He will keep with accuracy the diary of cooking, on the printed form provided for the purpose, and will hand it to the Quarter Master on the first day of every month.
12. He will, as early as possible, report to the Commanding Officer any case in which all the bones and refuse are not collected from the barrack rooms by the orderlies, and deposited in the appointed places; or any case in which the contractor does not remove them every alternate day, at least, such provision being one of the conditions of sale.
13. He will, on the morning of the day on which the coals are issued, furnish the Quarter Master with a note of the amount of coals he will probably require during the ensuing week. This estimate may equal but must not exceed the regulated allowance, and, with economy, may be much less.

By command of His Royal Highness

THE FIELD MARSHAL COMMANDING IN CHIEF.
